A humorous and interesting lecture was delivered before the patients of the New York City Lunatio Asylum, on Friday evening, by the Rev. J. Hyatt Smith. The audience were led from New York to Jerusalem, by way of Rome and Egypt, and back again. Mr. Smith seemed to have as appreciative baseners in these several hundred insane patients as can anywhere be found, and it was a doubtful question whether he or they were the more delighted, and, perhaps, it may be added, the more eccentric.

Among the "drunken" brought before Judge Dowling, at the Tombs, yesterday was a boy named Martin, who seems to be a kind of incarnation of youtain deprayity. These youtes evidently meant business, for they were found with burglars' tools in their possession. They were taken to the Tombs Court but were discharged as the prosecutor due not appear. On the 31st of August Martin was again arrested with Larry Smith and John Flynn (each nine years of age) by officer William Stevens, for a burglary of the store of Alexander Lawrence, of 96 Leonard street, and stealing eigars, liquors and tobacco of the value of $100. They acknowledged it and Martin said be got drunk on the stolen liquor. They were committed by instince Dowling to Randani's Island, but about a month afterwards they were on the streets. Mr. Nortis was charged by the girl with committing an outrage upon her, and in support of the charge she summoned twelve witnesses. The accused demanded an investigation afterwards, and the chief points of that inquiry were published in the Heralds. The magnistrate dismissed the charge. Ten of these witnesses now come forward and make antiavits that the charge is entirely false, that Mr. Norris was not in the place where the alleged outrage was committed, and that the man who is believed to be the real perpetrator escaped. It is further avorred that Miss McCann was so incoxicated at the time that she was insensible. Among these witnesses is the Mayor of Hubtstown. The friends of Mr. Norris claim that he has been completely vindicated in the matter.

Kasson, the ostensible proprietors of the Kasson Union Locomotive Express, visited Pater-Kasson Union Locomotive Express, visited Paterson, N. J., yesterday, in compliance with an invitation from the Passaic County Court. They were arraigned on an indictment for fraud and consultary, a suit commenced at the instigation of the Rogers Locomotive Works, and arising from certain transactions connected with the locomotive express basiness. A rull account of the allegations of the plaintiffs in this case has already been published in the Herald. The illustrions prisoners all pleaded 'mot guilty' to the indictment, and accordingly their trial was set down for the second Tuesday in April, when some rich developments are anticipated. As very few persons were aware that these celebrated individuals were to be in the city there were but few spectaiors present in the Court House, which would otherwise most probably have deatly returned to New York after their arraignment, giving $2,000 ball for their appearance—Messrs. Philip Rafferty and Samuel Smith being their surelies.

It is said that Messra. Fisk and Gould will be brought up again at the next court to answer some 400 suits for unlawful overcharges. Apropos of this subject, the Eric Railway commutation tickets between Paterson and New York have been raised from $21.75 to $26.25 per quarter, and the latest victory of the Fisk-Fuller Paterson Express is the driving from the field of another old line—Orane's Express.

RUMORED EXPRESS ROBBERY. Thirty-one Thousand Dollars in Government

Thirty-one Thousand Dollars in Government

Bonds Missing.

[From the Washington Chronicle, Jan. 8.]

It was on dit a few days since, that a package containing bonds to the value of $31,000 was unaccountably missing in the Washington office of Adams Express Company.

As nothing definite was known, the press of the city linade no mention of the case until it had been further investigated.

The facts seem to be that the bonds were sent by a Boston firm, to be delivered to the Treasury Department and exchanged for registered bonds. As the package was sent on private account, it was not delivered at the branch office of the company in the Treasury Department, but locked up in the safe at the general office on last Sunday morning. It appears that the package was checked off the books, but as it has not been delivered the company is unable to account for it.

The Supernatenent of the Washington office was busily engaged in investigating the case yesterday, still bis researches have thus far been unsuccessful. He onferlains the opinion, however, that the package has not been stolen, but missent, that is send away to another point with other express matter. The affair has excited a great deal of comment in detective circles, but ne detective force of the city have received as yet no official notification of the loss. The company, however, generally employ private detectives, who are, perhaps, now working up the case.

It is thus far impossible to say what has become of the bonds, but the mystery will soon be cleared up, and the rumors of the robbery may prove unfounded.

NAVAL ACADEMY BALL.

The First Class Ball at the Annapolis Naval Academy—The Secretary of the Navy, Admiral Porter and Other Distinguished Persons Present-Pashion and Festivity-The Middies on the Light Funtastic.
ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 8, 1870.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 8, 1870.
The regular annual ball of the graduating class at the United States Naval Academy took place last evening. These delightful entertainments are familiar to the hosts of friends of the rising generation of officers undergoing instruction at the institation here, and need no comment. It would be dif-ficult to distinguish among the balls given for the past few years, except it may safely be said that past lew years, except it may sarely be said that this one is fully equal to any ever given. At least 2,000 invitations were sent out, and out of that num-ber over ene-third were present. The train arriving ness this morning brought down about 200 invited guests. The evening train was crowed, and among the number were Secretary Robeson, Admiral Porter and family and Professor Coffin, and several hundged ladies and gentlemen. A stroll to the ballroom, which was fitted up in old Fort Severn, and an examination of its arrangements and decorations could not but elicit the opinion that these were attractive and appro-priate. The entrance was overhung with a canopy of American flags. Entering the room the first object which attracted the attention was the centre piece, which was novel and inferesting. It represented a miniature mill in full operation. The surroundings were a fac similie oond, a stream, a thatched mill, a water wheel turning rapidly, and gold fish swimming in the waters. This suggested, in a measure, the Petite Trainon at Versailles. The dome or skylight overhead was decorated with flags and nautical devices. a miniature steam trigate was suspended on one

A miniature steam trigate was aspended on one side, while on the other was a steam sloop of war. At other places in this circle were tasteful baskets hanging in mid air, containing German tavors. The room was brilliantly lighted by innumerable gas jets arranged in concentric circles.

The other embellishments of the room were equally appropriate. The front of the orchestra was composed of rustic work, covered with evergreen and several howitzers arranged on ends, like so many brass balusters. On the back was an anchor and the figures '10, the graduating year of the class. At another part of the room was a miniature monitor, crossed cars and the class monogram "U. S. N. A. '70." Again, the following motioes in green were to be seen:—"Vive !'Amour, Vive ia Compaguie !" "On with the Dance! Let Joy be Unconfined;" "Onm Vivinus Vivamus." an hour grass and scytae. Valor, Pidelity and Glory, with crossed cutlasses. The entre half was embellished with beautiful canopies of American colors, and here and there the popular spooney corners were to be seen where love sick middles could breathe the youthful yows of their susceptible hearts in secret.

The paraget wail or promenade was decorated with arms and green.

The parapet wail or promenade was decorated with arms and green.

In order to insure the success of the ball the following committees were specially chosen:—

General Committee—Midshipmen W. S. Holliday, W. S. Baker, B. Leach, T. Porter, J. J. Hunker, C. P. Kunhardt and C. P. Rees.

Floor Committee—Midshipmen J. P. T. Augur, W. M. Wood, F. H. Crosby, H. L. Green, W. P. Ray and J. P. Milton.

At ten o'clock the lavited guests began to arrive and by half-past ten o'clock the ballroom was comfortably filled. At this hour the Academy band, under the leadership of Professor Schoff, set off with a gailop, when the dancing of the evening began and followed in the following order:—

Galep, Waitz, Lanciers, Polka Redowa, Galop, Waitz, Quadrille, Ar a, Deux Temps, Waitz, Lanciers, Galops, Trots Temps, Waitz, March and German.

In the first square dance the Russian Minister, Catacazy, had Mrs. Admiral Porter as his partner, and Secretary Robeson Miss Annie Case, daughter of Commodore Case. The Secretary was in high spirits among the unfielded representatives of his arm of the service, and set a good example of initial at the proper season. Admiral Porter moved about with an air of fatherly care. Commodore Warden kept over the entertainment the watenful eye of a superintendent, while the sturdy Harrison, commandant of midshipmen, was to be seen at all parts of the baliroom managing affairs with vigilance, and the discipline of a commander.

The naval officers in their full dress presented an unusually fine appearance, and their uniforms, with the elegant dresses of the hadres mixing in the dance, presented a scene of rare brillance and interest. The ladics and moshipmen were finderatigable, and their engagements pretty well filled the list of dances for the evening.

Shortly after after midnight the guests retired to the armory, where a sumphous entertainment was spread out, prepared by the veneraole and active caterer of the Academy, Colonel swann.

Among the sevening were the following:—Mr. Robeson, Secretary of the Navy son, Miss Hoge and Miss Strothers, daugnters of "Porte Crayon," all of Marinsburg; Lieutenant E. W. Creecy, United States receiving sapp; Mr. and Airs. Foulson, Commander Beardslee and wife, Mr. H. C. Ghristopner, of Baltimore; First Assistant Engineer theiry Lee Snyder, Insarnator of Steam Engineering, United States Naval Academy; Engineers Thurston, Devalin, Bothwick, Latch, Kaier, Crawiord, Rae and Roche; Señor Alvano, Charge G'Affaires Chilean Legation; Señor Canauza, Secretary of the Argentine Legation; Señor Puenta, Secretary of the Argentine Legation; Señor Puenta, Secretary of the Peruvian Minister; Captain Tiltou, Leutenants Muse and Biack, of the marines; Lieutenant Commanders Picking, Chew, Howlson, Casey, Comin and Terry; Ensign Cover, Miss Effle Nicholson, Miss Zeilla, Payinasters Jackson and Hoy, Miss Maxwell, Mrs. Hall, sister of Mr. Ferry, member of Congress; Major General Bowerman and Staff, Mrs. Bowerman, Mrs. Manool, Mrs. Cark, Miss Braiford, Mrs. W. Maxwell Wood, Commander Grier and wife, Judge Merrick, Miss Mary Stewart and many others.

On an occasion of this kind ladies vie with each other in the taste displayed in their dreases. It would be impossible to make any distinction, as never at a similar time were more beauty and inshion exhibited. I have underasken to note the dresses of a few of the leading ladies present, as a sample of the rest.

Mrs. Dr. Shippen, black sain.

Mrs. and Miss Hoy were conspicuous in beauty and presented elegant toilets.

Upon returning from the supper room preparations were made for the German. It was after two o'clock before the music resumed and this interminable dance began. The first German was led by midshipman Augur with Miss Dilingham, of Philadelphia, assisted by midshipman Dillingham and Miss Lyon, of Boston.

Second German. midshipman Leach with Miss Robertson, of Detroit, assisted by Lieutenant Commander Swan with Mrs. Wilson.

It was dawn before the ballroom was cleared of its festive throng. Taken all in all the ball of the class of '70 will long be rememoered.

This evening the midshipmen hold a private minstrel entertainment. This wil close the recreations of the holidays, and once more they must return to their books and their duty.

THE BALL SEASON.

The youths of Gotham are agitated once more by Terpischorean events, present and to come. Mill tary bands are engaged months in advance, tailors are wild over rumors of alterations in pall costames, and our city belies are excited over the prospect of the gayest metropolitan season of festivity ever known in their experience. It is already a difficult matter to keep track of the ever crowding announcements of "sociables," balls and parties. Below will be found a list of the coming events of this week, which it is to be hoped will cast no shadow, before said that the old, original "Dod," who is so well known to the readers of HERALD Personais, will be present and dance with a mythical lady of most ravishing appearance.

On the night of the 11th Mount Neboh Lodge, F. and A. M., will have its eighteenth annual hop at the same place. Dancing will be by the plumb, and strangers will be expected to find their level.

At Cooper's Hall, Jersey City, on the following night (Wednesday), the Oceanic Yacht Club will go on a Terpsichorean cruise, every member with a handsome craft in tow.

And white Jersey City is agitated with this event, here in New York, on the same evening, one of the greatest events of the season will take place. To rival the grandeur of the Seventh regiment and to utterly eclipse the Americus innocents, it is the purpose of the Matthew T. Brennan Association to give such a ball at the Academy of Music on Wednesday night as will be beyond praise. Ail the young bloods of the city will be present, and all that is elegant in decoration and beautiful in music will be provided for the occasion. The association was started by the late John Clancy, of the Leader, many years ago, and has since grown in importance and respectability. The names of the managers of this their annual reunion are sufficient to support to the loadly expressed prophecy that nothing will be left undone to make the sifair a grand success.

On Thursday night the French Opera ball will take place; also that of the Excestor Musical Union and the La Cotorie Masquerade. Both of these last will be worth attending. The Caledonian Club, the Ocean Lodge, I. O. of O. F., and the Adelphi Lodge, No. 23, F. and A. M., give their annual hop on the night of the i3th. From the character of the gentlemen composing the Caledonian Club, and Judging by their previous performances in this way, their ball is sure to be one of much elegance in arrangement and splendor in effect. The other events noticed above will doubtless be very successful.

AMUSEMENTS.

Second Philharmonic Concert.

The programme was far more interesting last night at the second concert of the Philharmonic Society than at the preceding one. There were two tions, and a new symphony by a composer who on this occasion stamped himself as the first at present in Europe. This symphony in C, by Raff, reveals a mine of heretofore hidden talent which his other works did not lead us to suppose had any existence. It is original, entirely so, in treatment if not in themes, orchestrated in such a manner as to combine constant variety with homogeneity and fresh and glowing with ideas. There is not a dull phrase in the four movements, long though they be. Its main charm is the utter absence of straining after effect, like the sol-disant symphonic works of many of RaiPs contemporaries. There is a spontaneity main charm is the utter absence of straining after effect, like the sol-disant symphonic works of many of Rail's contemporaries. There is a spontanelty and naturalness about it even when the composer makes dangerous experiments and combinations with the instruments at his command wailer renders it deligatiul to the musical car. The scherzo and facate, in particular, are strikingly original in their treatment and varied as the changes of a kaleidoscope, yet underneath all these vagaries there is a distinct idea and subject never lost sight of for a moment. Rail fine not always written so; some or his pious works, for instance, are very like trash, but he can point to this symphony with pride as an evidence of genus. It was superbly played, all the delicate numbers and effects of light and shade being brought out with artistic distinctness and power. On Bail played the first movement of Mozart's volun concerto in D major exquisitely. The work is delicious; thoroughly Mozart, and Mozart at his best. The bequitint melodies, of a nature which, alsa, is never thought of nowadays, with their characteristic little trill at the end of each phrase, came from the magic violin of the great virtuoso like echoes of the past, and the beautifully rounded allegory passages were like diamond drops in sparkling brilliancy and sharply defined outlines. We did not think so much of the fantasia from Bellim's "Romco," although it gave the artist full scope to display his wonderfol mastery over the violin. The themes, with one exception, were not of the melodious character which rendered Bellini famous in his other works. But the hamoly of a quarret, and anon almost human in their pleading tenderness, rose above the suppressed murmur of the orchestral accompaniment.

The only biot on the programme was the incompressible and chaotic overture to "King Lear," but we doubt very much if even the accomplished director. Carl Bergmann, knew last might what on early biot on the programme and serial profiles. S. E. Mills played Chopin's magnifi

Kate Fisher and her horse Wonder will appear to-morrow evening in Rochester, in the leading rôles in the drama of "Mazeppa."

Chantrau is still in St. Louis, where he is drawing fair andiences. He varies his bill, however. Too much "Sam" won't do in the West.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams open to-morrow evening at the new theatre in Albany in a round of their irish and Yankee impersonations.

Miss Rose Hersee, now with the Parepa-Rosa operatic troupe, has been offered an engagement as prima donina at the Italian Opera at Malta for the season 1870-71.

Miss Bateman commences an engagement of six nights at the National theatre, Washington, to-morrow evening, during which she will play a round of her favorite characters. From Washington she proceeds to New Orleans, where she opens on the 24th.

For this purpose C. F. Berg, whose farces are well known in Germany, has been requested to furnish a text for a comio ballet. Nor is this the only change contemplated; the intention is entertained of relieving the dances by humorous dialogues, songs and choruses.

The indomitable Colville is still meandering through the provinces with "The Fox Pantomime Company," notwithstanding the fact that Humpty Dumpty Fox-who, by the by, was the soul and body of "the company"—has returned to his old hannt in this city, the Olympic theatre. Mr. Charles Aboott is now filing Mr. Fox's rôle of clown in the various pantomimes produced under the management of "wierd and shadowy Colville" for the edilication of "our country consins." To-morrow night they do "Humpty Dumpty" in Louisville.

The celling of the new Opera House in Paris will be as remarkable for novelty as some of those combinations of architectural ideas which distinguish the facade and have excited much hostile criticism. It will be composed of a vast number of plates of copper screwed one to the other in such a way as to be easily put together and taken to pieces again. Part of the advantage of the plan is said to be that the ceiling can thus be raised or lowered at will. The whole is divided into several sections, which are now being painted with aliegorical representations of the hours of day and night, more than a hundred figures being included in the whole. The place in which the artist carries on his idoor is situated in the grand cupois over the pit, and forms an immense rotunds 120 feet in diameter and sixty-five feet in height. Probably no artist ever before possessed such a studio—lits size, as has been remarked, being sufficient to accommodate haif a dozen mansions of five stories high.

DEUTSCHER LESE CLUB. Dr. William S. Landsberg delivered a lecture last evening at the Germania Hall, Third avenue, near Righteenth street. The subject of the lecture was the social and political status of women. He seemed to take the common sense view, but he was interrupted. Mr. Scaoenhoff arose and proclaimed himself an advocate of the women. Further discussion occurred, when the question of women's right to vote was submitted to the women who were present and the majority voted nay. Mr. Andreas Willmann, as chairman of the committee, again put the question to those present, and it appeared that Dr. Landsberg had but few friends, because all of those who were present followed the lead of Mrs. Neumann and devared in favor of woman suffrage. the social and political status of women. He seemed Bloody Fight in Baxter Street-A Family Stabbed.

Some days ago a Chinaman named Henry Lewis. residing at No. 14 Baxter street, who does business as a cigar dealer at No. 28 Bowery, caused aged twenty-one years, on the charge of grand larceny. Louis charged, before Justice Dowling, that Zepeda, who was at that time in his employ, and occupying the same sleeping room with employ, and occupying the same sleeping room with him and his wife, got up in the night and stole his watch. As the evidence was not very positive the Justice disharged the Cuban, who was turned out of his employment by Lewis. His arrest, it seems, exasperated Zepeda, who boasted that he would be revenged for the injury done him. He, however, made no attempt to carry his threat into execution until last night.

About filteen minutes after eleven o'clock Zepeda called at Lewis' house, asked Mrs. L. if she would treat him. She refused, when he drew a cigar master's knife and made a furlous assault upon ner. The woman received a very severe cut on the right eye that may cause blindness, a deep gash in the right eye that may cause blindness, a deep gash in the right eye that may cause blindness, a deep gash in the right eye that may cause blindness, a deep gash in the right eye that may cause to the left leg above the knee. At this point Lewis came in to the assistance of his wife, when the Cuban turned upon him and attacked him yigorously. Before the former could knock him down and disarm him he received an ugly wound in the left leg. Zepeda was arrested and the wounded parties were attended by a surgeon, who sent them to the hospital.

THE LINGARD-DUNNING INFELICITY.

Billings and Coolings Resumed by Mutual

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:-So much has been said recently in reference to the trouble between William Horace Lingard and his be pleased to know that on the first of the new year they were entirely reconciled to each other, and are now living together in as perfect a state of happiness as is possible for man and wife. A mutual explanation has been made, and it has been discovered that the whole trouble originated (as is too often the case) from the intermeddling in private family matters of false friends. None regrets more than does Mrs. Lingard the publicity which has unfortunately been given to this matter and the scandal which has arisen from it. I do not believe there exists to-day a truer or more devoted wife. As for Mr. Lingard, whatever his antecedents may have been since he has been in this country he has proved himself a high-toned, honorable gentleman, a devoted father and an affectionate, although impulsive, husband. And both Mr. and Mrs. Lingard trust that the public will be no longer in forgetting this unfortunate episode in their history than they will be themselves. W.

KILLED.-Jacob Stubenroth, of No. 150 Avenue C, was last night crushed to death by the machinery in Jones' brewery, No. 180 Sixth avenue, where he was employed.

SMALLPOX.—Elizabeth Ernst, aged two years, residing at No. 228 East Fourth street, died of smallpox yesterday afternoon. The Coroner and Dr. Harris, of the Board of Health, were notified.

ACCIDENTS .- Patrick Brady, of No. 496 Cherry street, was knocked down by a runaway horse attached to a truck and was slightly injured. Margaret Jordan widow, of No. 243 Madison street, fell through a coal hole near Clinton street, corner of Ruigers place, and was severely injured. Frank Stanton yesterday fell from a car, corner of Eightn avenue and Twenty-eightn street, breaking one of his legs. Sent to Mount Sinai Hospital.
